USER GUIDE 1

CEMETERIES AND CREMATORIA

By the mid-nineteenth century, church graveyards were beginning to pose serious health risks due to overcrowding.

The Burial Acts of 1852 and 1853 enabled local authorities to administer their own cemeteries. Parish vestries elected Burial Boards to manage them.

This user guide outlines those cemetery records held here which will yield information about individual persons. Such records include burial registers, grave books and monumental inscriptions. Other cemetery records such as cash books, letter books etc, are not indicated. This guide also includes registers of cremations at some local crematoria.

Most of these records are available on microfilm (MF) and a microfilm reader should be booked in advance.

Please enquire in advance about access to any unlisted collections.
